

Fox Class News

Hello from Fox Class! We have had a busy couple of weeks. Have a look at what we have been up to.

In English this week, we have been learning all about writing a diary entry. We have written one as if we are Bessie Coleman, the first Black, Native American female pilot. To help us prepare for it, we did some drama to get into character during different parts of her life.

We have been learning how to take photographs in our Computing lessons. We have learnt all about positioning, framing and detail. Look at this amazing photo Pippa and Lara took!

In Science this week, we have been learning all about minibeasts and microhabitats. We went on a minibeast hunt around school to find spiders, woodlice, ladybirds, slugs, snails, caterpillars and worms. We then recorded where we found them (their microhabitat) and researched why they liked to live there.

Even though we were disappointed that our Christmas performance was cancelled, we performed the songs brilliantly for everyone on teams. Look at us in our costumes!
